

Armon Edero arm support

Work complaint free

- reduces physical workload
- preserve energy for leisure
- improves posture
- reduces fatigue
- work more precisely
- reduces absenteeism

Repetitive movements can lead to physical complaints of the arms, back, shoulders and neck (RSI). The Edero arm support makes the arm weightless and relieves the body, while the user is free to move in a large working range.

The Edero can be mounted on a table/desk, office chair or floor stand.

Features

- easy to mount / remove without tools
- light weight (2,5 kilo)
- personally adjustable
- robust aluminium housing
- 12 different sizes for a perfect fit
- easy to clean
- reliable design, available since 2011
